

Almt dy the nty-republics of Venice*, Genoa* ftnd I Hsu writ? vigorous centres of trade and homes of daring tieumen, us ready for war nmJ pirtiry, as for shipping curgewa between Kttut and West, They preyed upon the decaying Greek Empire, whirl* in the eleventh century was btwining wiiiibk- to either prated, its own tracloor provide n HUTfantiit⁴ tnarint* for it.
 The other grt*at pcmrr in tht* U'Vitnt, tlmt tjf thu Moakms, rcvt*ivt*tt driully blow;; in thi» miw century by the Norman and t*hrh;iiun iHTUpittitm «f South Italy
 itnd Sicily » itnci tht* First C!rttsad«, AM tht* Mos-It'itiii ret'ittlrd tlw intTt'littnti and nrttmcn of the North Ittlliitn !«tT«*pwl»lk'£4 nimtt in the first line of tlw Chrisitliiii itdvunre, uw*uring in return for thdr aid in wibjtTting the* innritimc* towns tjf Pult'Htiw*
 cji,iitrti*ra in JfruMilfn, Antutdt, itndTrip'oli, where Veiin^s iiwl (inum wich jH»:«^ss<*d in full ttwm*rsliip a market, n t*hwu*h, f«n«tji«n from all tolls, and a gMVt*ruor who dwlt in it f mlniT titid waitTtjpcmsible only to tht* molhtT-city. These* new ;>uwers fttxmt tt> found rt'pyblintn empires itt the of Cirrrk und Moslem. In 1113 Genoa tint! Plwi jiiiiitly oerupird the Bulrurit* Idas.
 Actually th«y wt*rt« not f hi? ftriit in time among the maritime! rly«stiiti*s, Aiwtlft, Ga^ta.

Salerno had pritatdttd ihwn, tmt th« s«wtht*m dtit«» distippeared in a struggk? whirti rt'lrfitkm, and the triumphs of the twelfth century wwo for the northern Kc*a-

A movement not wwritiftllv dilTer<Mit from this